R² Lost in Translation User Notes

The user script will reproduce the analyses featured in the blog post. The script is a stata .do file but is annotated to enable translation to other statistics programs.

The script calls several .csv data files, all of which have been uploaded to the page from which you downloaded these notes.